EVANGELIZATIONGIVING AND RECEIVING

Today's Mass readings are all about hospitality and its reward. Abraham honors his three visitors as messengers from God. He and Sarah serve them choicest food and drink. In turn, the guests assure them that God's long-awaited promise will promptly be fulfilled. Less than a year later, baby Isaac rests in his parents' arms. (Gen 18: 1-10) In today's gospel, two sisters open home and hearts to Jesus. In turn, He gladly fills them with the warmth of His presence, His wisdom, and His love. (Luke 10:38-42)

Hospitality is what Cleveland is all about this week, as we host the RNC. Let's pray that something good comes of it. We know that God is "able to do exceedingly abundantly above and beyond all that we ask or think." (Eph 3:20) He'll never be outdone in generosity.
